RK University
School of Diploma Studies
Computer Department
Website Development Using Frameworks-DCE521

Website Development Guidelines

(1) Students are supposed to choose a website definition within one week after the commencement of the semester.
(2) Students must select website definition that contains user and admin facilities.
(3) The website definition selected by the students will be approved by the faculty.
(4) The topics will be assigned based on first come first serve.
(5) The students must explain all the functionalities they will provide in the website at the time of approval. In case the student presents less/more functionalities the faculty has full rights to add/remove functionalities.
(6) The students must submit data dictionary for the website definition selected by them the faculty will approve the data dictionary and add/remove tables.
(7) The website must include following basic functionalities:
    a. Login
    b. Registration
    c. Notification for Forgot Password
    d. Form Validation
(8) The basic functionalities defined in (7) will not be included in additional functionalities criteria of the rubrics.
(9) The students must implement any 4 additional functionalities.
(10) If the number of functionalities defined are more than 4, no extra marks shall be given to the students.
(11) It should contain following pages:

- Home
- Photo Gallery/Services/ Products etc…
- Contact us

- About us
- Login
- Register

12) Designing must be done using Bootstrap/External CSS.

13) The website Designed must be mobile responsive.

14) Students have to report their work done to the concerned faculty every week after the selection of website definition. The faculties will ask few questions and give marks as follows:

Exam	Maximum Marks
CIE-1	4
CIE-2	4
TSEE	22

15) Students must host their website in any free/paid hosting domains.

16) The final submission of a website will be during TSEE Exam.

17) The assessment of the website will be based on pre defined Rubric.

18) The additional functionalities may include the following:

a. Shopping cart for E-Commerece Websites.
b. Sending feedback through mail to the admin.
c. Filtering and searching the products/services based on creiteria
d. Other users than admin and end user.
e. Customize the design of the website from admin panel.
f. Admin can add posts in the website and send notification about the post.
g. Any other as per their definition.